Star Search

On Thursday September 27, the stars stepped into the spotlight. Watched by the adoring fans, the celebrities flashed their smiles and strutted their stuff. Cheers rang throughout the quad as Robert Redford, portrayed by Cy Benck, strutted onto the platform. Was that a ghost we saw gliding by? No problem, the ghostbusters are hot on the trail and they always get their ghost.

The turnout was tremendous, the celebrities came from all over to enter our Search for the Stars contest. The yearbook staff picked five lucky winners to be on the cover of the yearbook. The winners were Minnie Mouse, (Tina Anderson) Boy George, (Ray Ram) Robert Redford, (Cy Benck) and the McKenzie Brothers, (Pat Sharp and Jarret Melville).

Top Left:
Is that the Blues Brothers or the Blues Sisters?

Top Right:

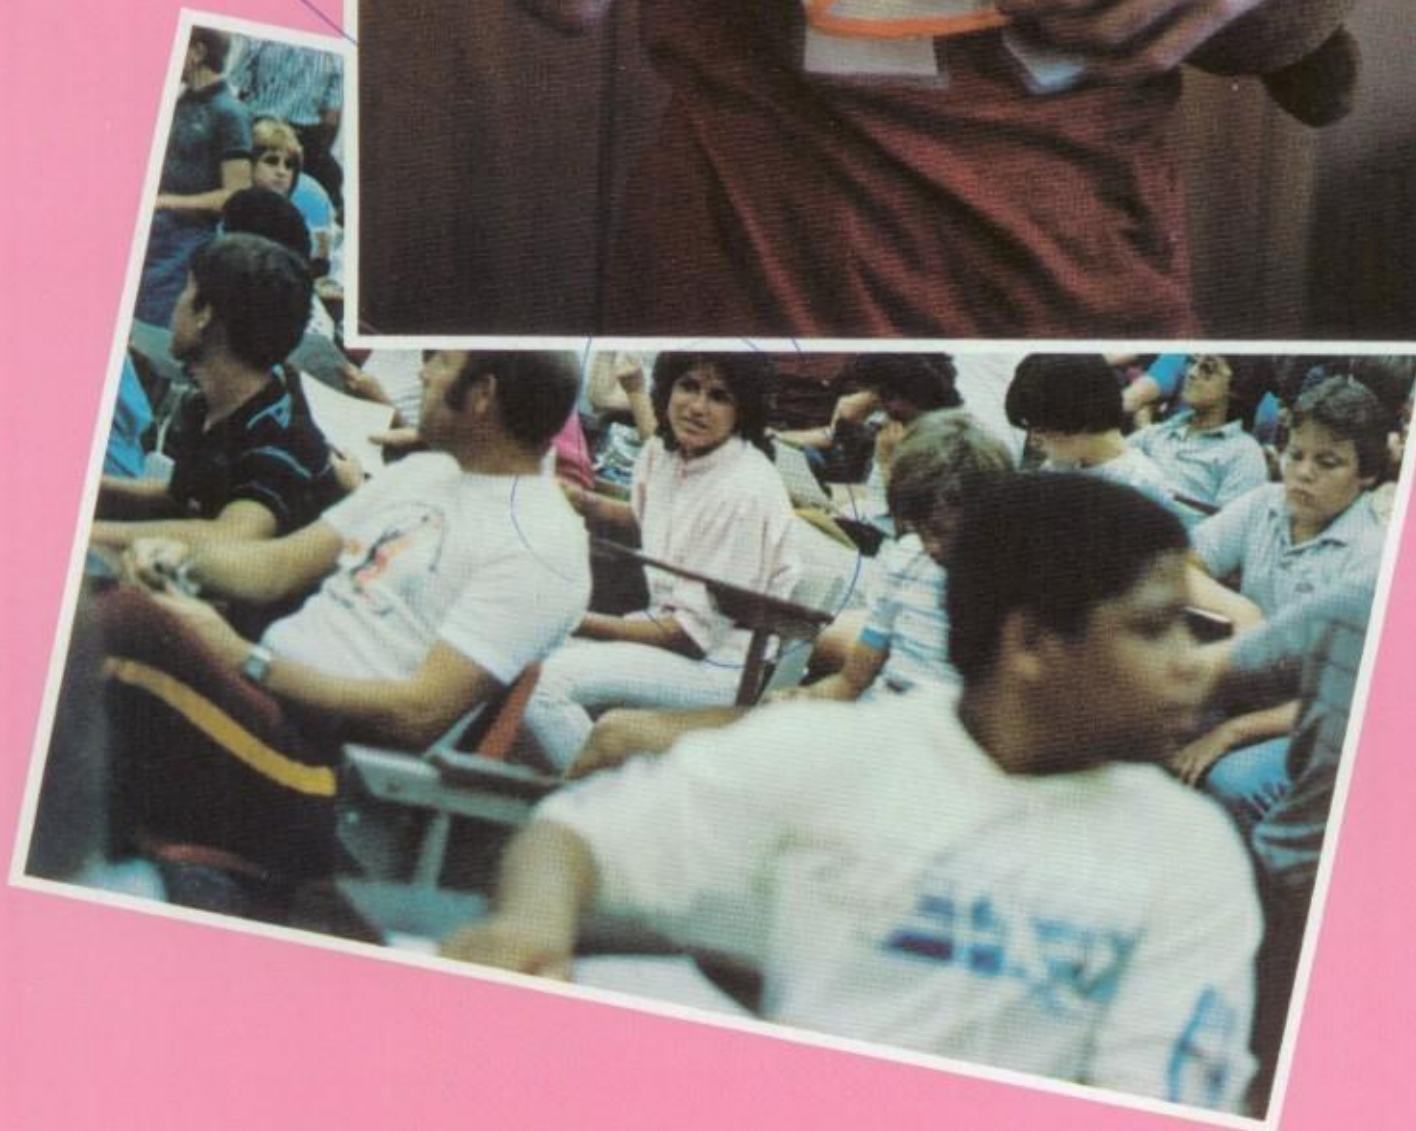

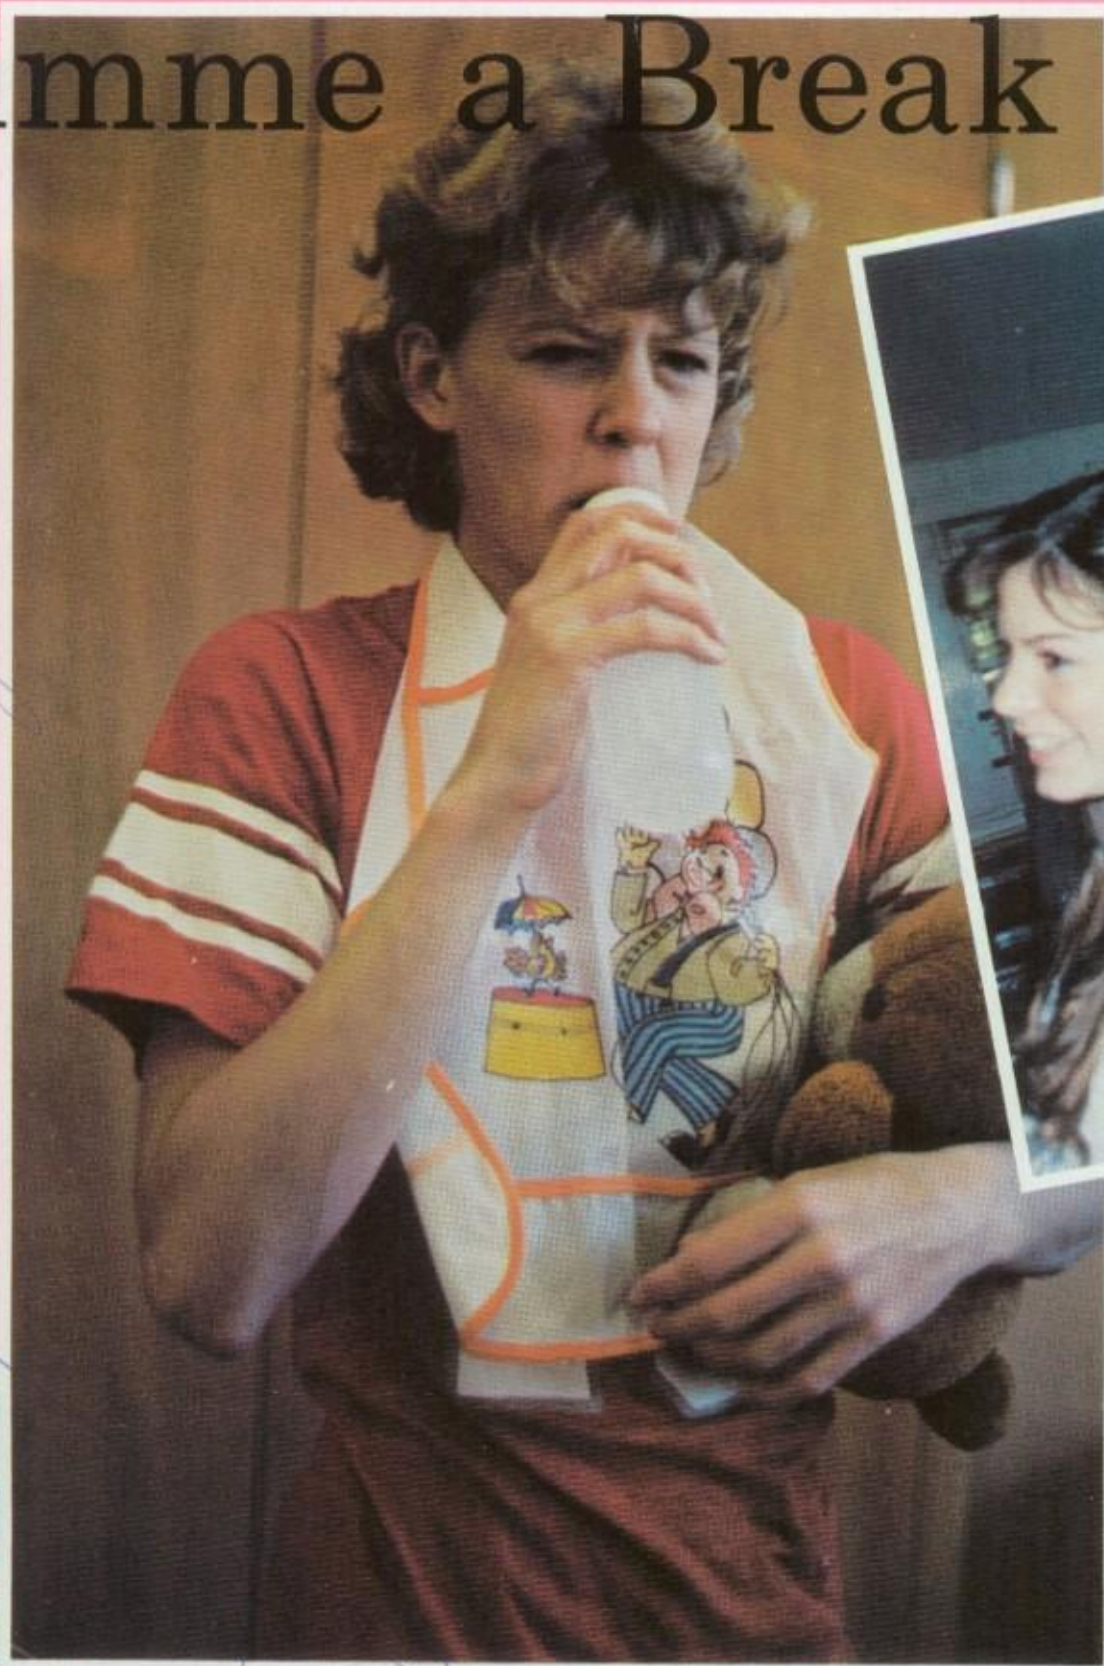

Is this a Hollywood party? No, it's a group of students who dressed up for the Be a Star contest.

Bottom:

Jeanie has it all under control with that bullhorn in her hand.

Top Left:

Top Middle:

join on club day.
Bottom Left:
Freshmen orientation day
Center:
These Juniors go for the win, in the class yell competition.
Top Right:
These guys really know how to jam.

Strap on your sandals and join the excitement, Everywhere you looked, you saw one variation or another of Cleopatra and Ceasar. No, it wasn't a day in the Roman colosseum, it was Toga Day. Everyone turned out for the fun and festivities. All agreed that our welcome back dance was a success and they danced the night away in the sheets.

What is that little girl doing taking the P.S.A.T. test? It wasn't a little girl, it was Christie Olson, on Little Kids day. Many were seen skipping across the campus in pajamas and carrying their Snoopy lunch pails, to first period.

It wasn't exactly the Invasion of the Body Snatchers but, it was close enough for the Seniors. Hoards of Freshmen descended on our school during Freshmen orientation day.

Club day took everyone by surprise. Students were able to join clubs that interested them. There was everything from N.H.S. to the Rocket Club but, where was the Micky Mouse Club?

Action Theater

The thrills and the chills of activities and class competition are some of the things that set Sierra ahead of other schools. With belly flop contests, tug-o-wars, and disgusting belching contests, how could anyone say Sierra students don't know how to have fun!

"Everyone please report to the gym, before the game, for a hair raising rally," yelled Mr. Wait. From air guitar concerts, to class yells, and dancing pep girls, our rallies prove that Sierra's spirit rules. Everyone yelled themselves hoarse . . . Why? To prove their class spirit was the best. The rallies kept the competition rolling between the classes and other schools.

Bottom Left:

The Juniors and Freshmen fight it out in the tug-o-war.

Center:

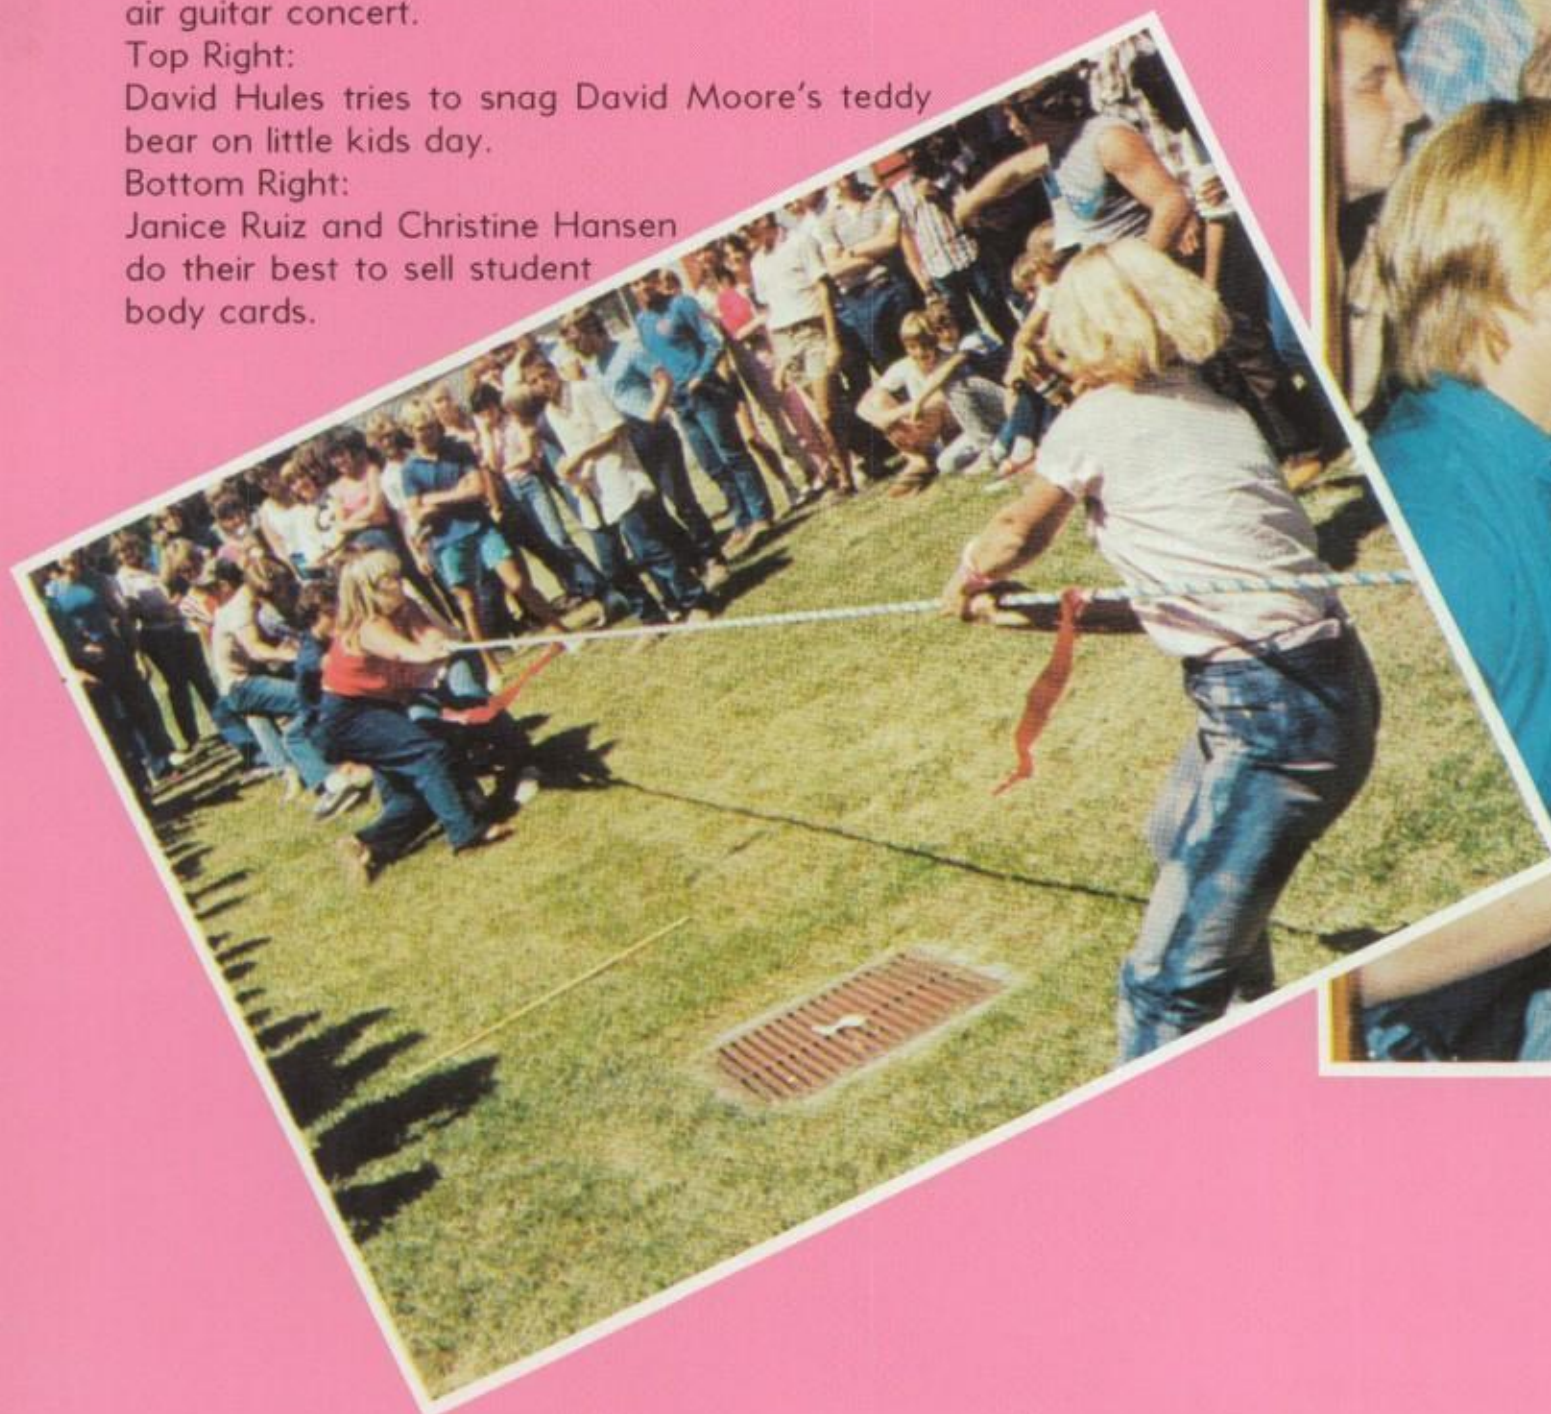

Mike Kennedy, Ty Whitehead, and Arthur Helmic watch intently at the air guitar concert.

Top Right:

Bottom Right:

Janice Ruiz and Christine Hansen do their best to sell student body cards.

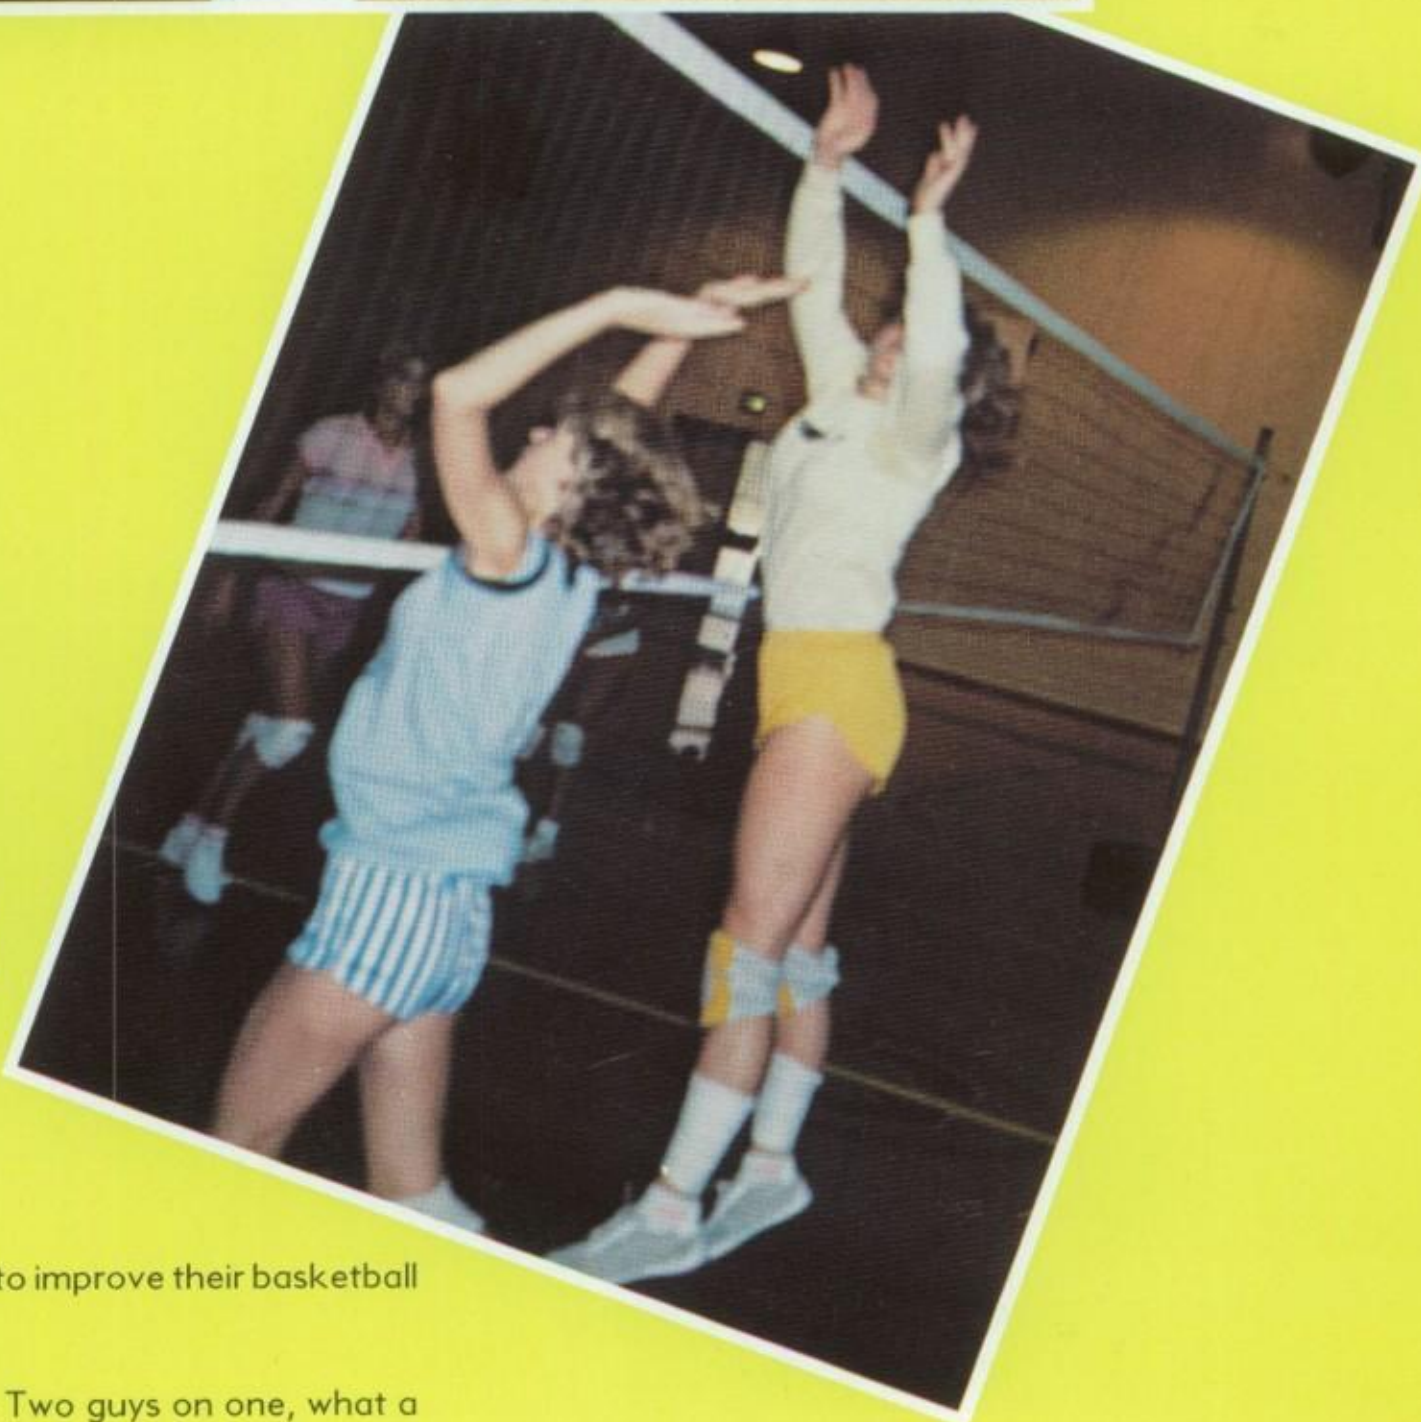

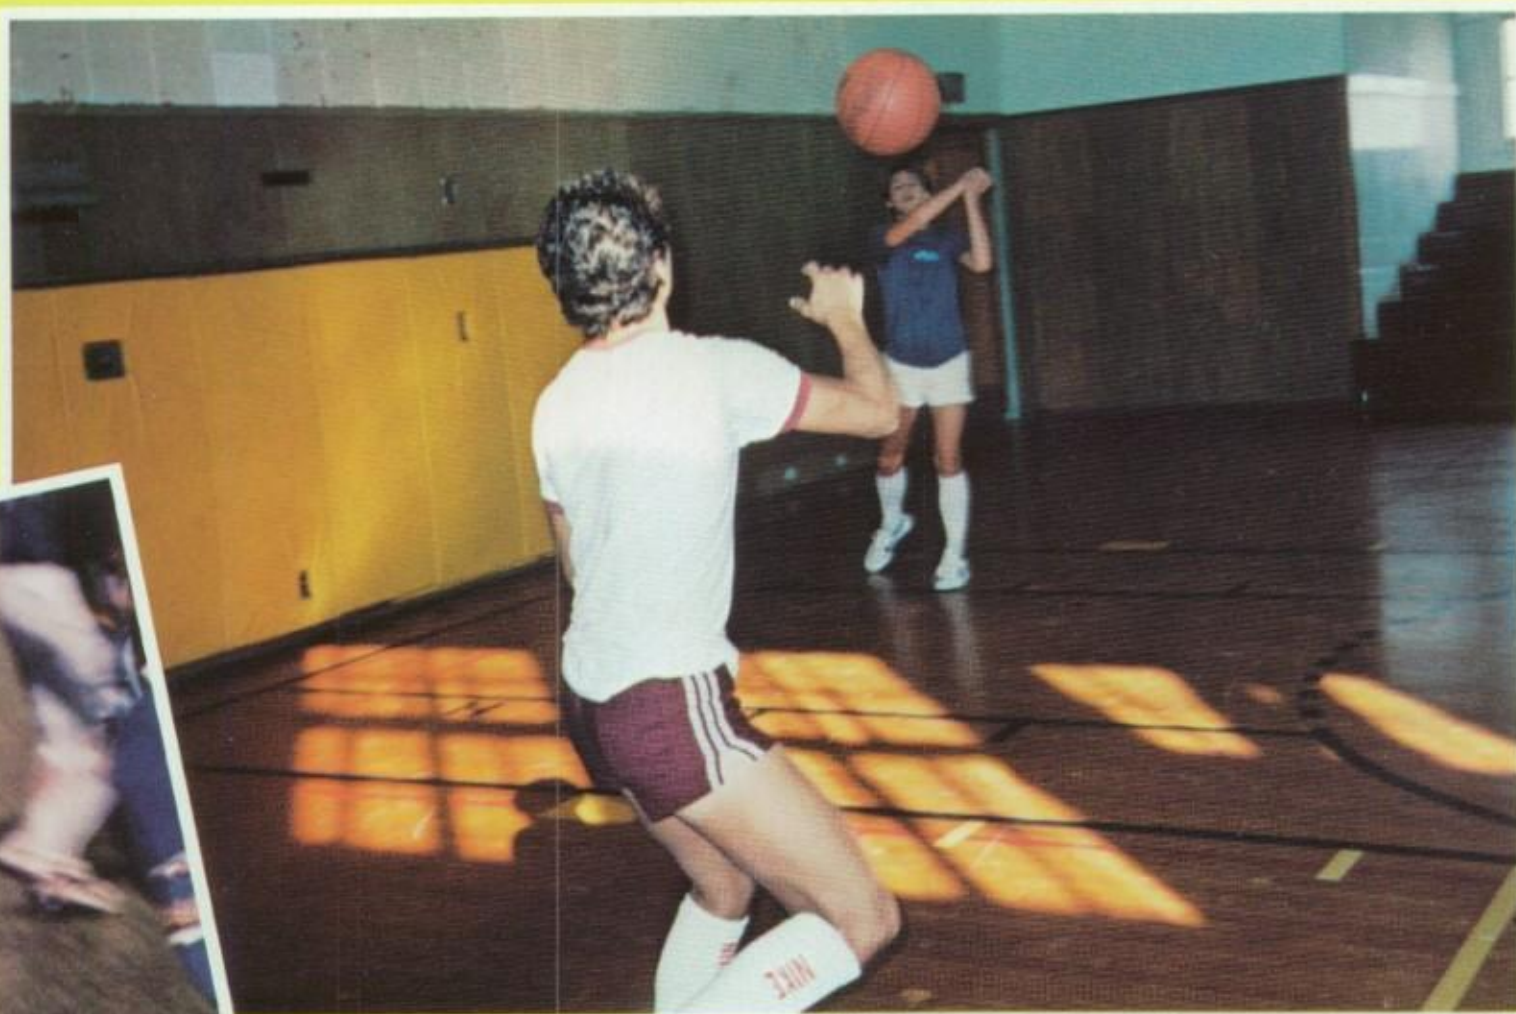

Sports View

The thrill of victory and the agony of defeat, our athletic teams knew these feelings well. With practice, they strove to do their best and though they may not have won every game or meet, they did win the support of the student body. It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game.

Top Right:
These boys are working hard to improve their basketball skills.

Center:
What a play by Ralph Ratliff. Two guys on one, what a tough guy.

Bottom Right:
Christie Olson and Beth Gudehus get it up, over the net.

Anything For Money!

What is this, the Gong Show? No it's only spirit week. The turnout was tremendous. Every day, average students turned into raging lunatics. There were babys, punk rockers, romans greasers, But worst of all there were nerds. They were doing the wierdest things. Like stacking blocks, cramming into cars, belching, and acting like their favorite rock stars. These courageous events kicked off this years homecoming.

Center Bottom: Hey get those bums out of our gym., wait those aren't bums, their nerds

Top Right: Kindy Poule sighs for relief after de-cramming

Cheers

Cheers, was what the homecoming floats were getting. The many hours spent on the parade finally paid off and were apparent in the quality work and good use of the Homecoming theme, A Matter of Pride. The crowd was surprised but proud of the number of people that participated.

It may not have been the Miss America Pageant but, it was just as good and exciting. The homecoming candidates were all standing and waiting anxiously, to find out who would be the Queen. Then the final moment came, the envelope was opened. Michelle Nunes was the new Homecoming Queen. The crowd roared as Amy Somerville crowned Michelle.

Coming Home

Homecoming was really the highlight of the football season. The J.V. and Varsity teams, won their games against Kerman. The Fans were jumping in the stands and the excitement lasted for the rest of the night.

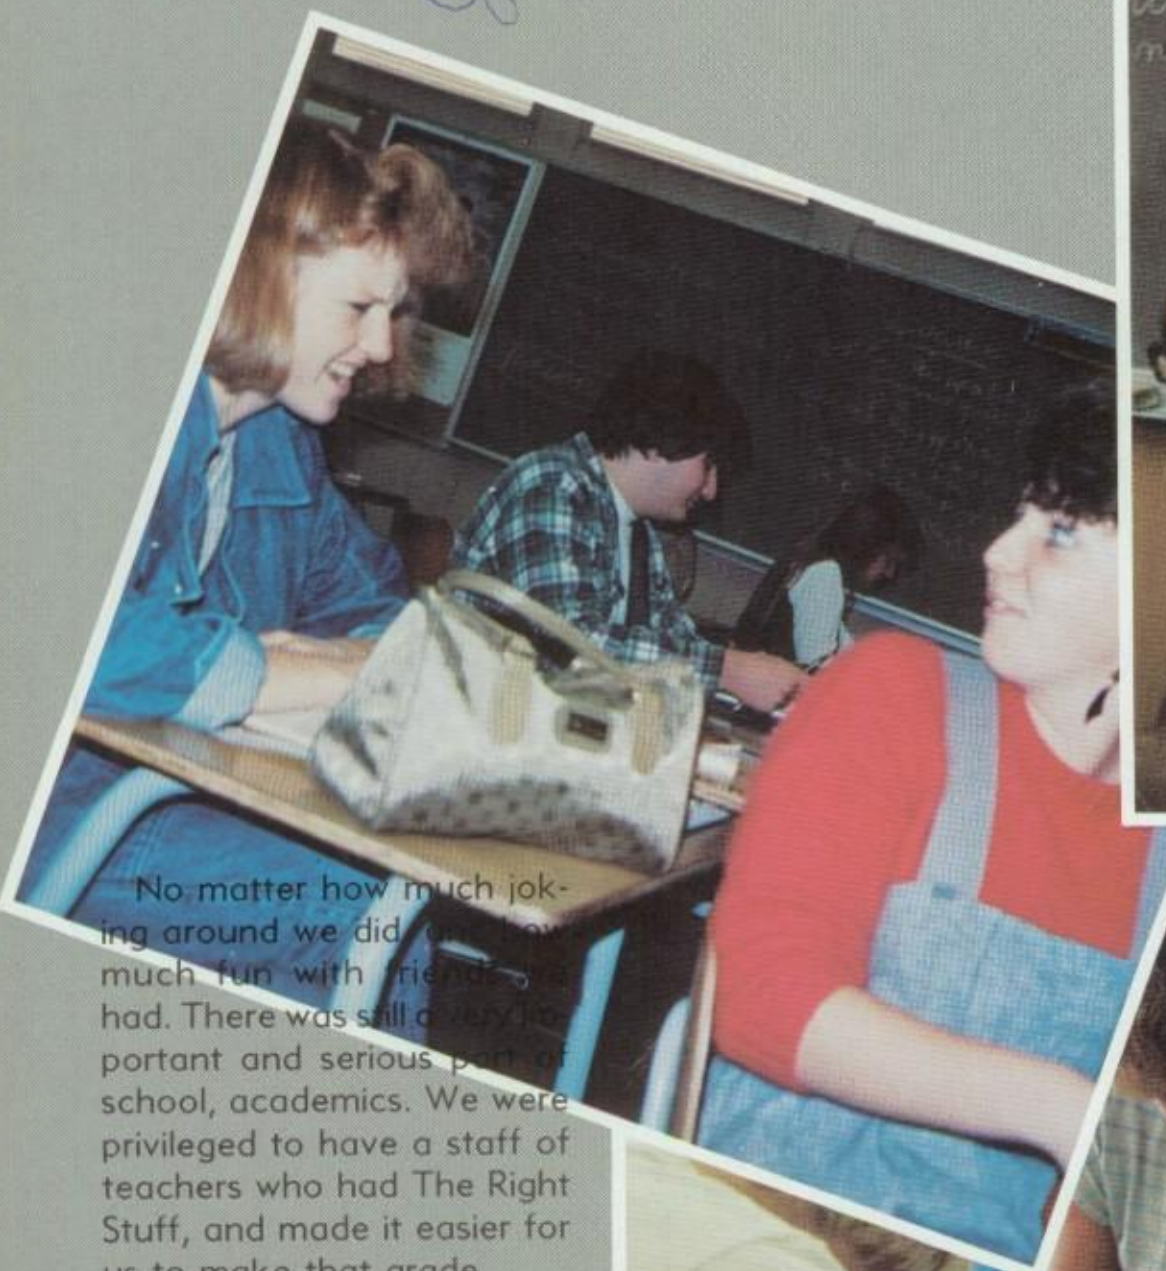

Right: What's happening? These cheerleaders are in suspense.

Wheel of Fortune

No matter how much joking around we did, we had so much fun with friends we had. There was still a very important and serious part of school, academics. We were privileged to have a staff of teachers who had The Right Stuff, and made it easier for us to make that grade.

Top: Pat sit down, you bother me! Exclaimed Mr. Pearson. Center: How do I know who wrote the constitution? Ginger Strohl grimaces at Deena Lee during American History. Bottom: William Brown and Mary Kay try to draw a picture upside down.

FRIDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL

"There was a turnaround in the program this year, for the better," claims senior Bryan Jarrett. Hard Hitting action was what it was all about this season out on the football field. The Varsity Chiefs provided the spectators with some great games, and ended the season with a record of four wins, and six losses. We were proud of their tremendous effort!

The freshman team enjoyed a productive and record-breaking season that they can be proud of. John Claxton, captain of the JV football team said that "It was exciting to watch!" And that it was. The team performed well and had a pretty good season. The juniors on the team are positive about next season, and can't wait to make next year's Varsity team the best.

The boys started the year off with excellent games against Orosi and Madera. The team showed that the spirit and talent of Sierra was with them.

The Best Defense

The J.V. Boys Basketball Team had an awesome year. Under the superb leadership of Coach O'Connell, the boys took the championship at the Orosi tournament, and went on to win the game against Selma by an amazing 73 to 20. The boys have an amazing offense as well as defense.

Says Donny Vosburgh about this year's swim team. "Almost everyone on the team gets along with each other. Swimming is good exercise and a lot of fun for everyone on the team."

Bryan,

So you finally went out for swimming. What a "natural"! This year has been very entertaining, with you around. You're such a good punching bag. Have a nice summer, but I know for a fact that you will.
 Love
 Donny

Chariots of Fire

"Track is cool!" says Christie Olson about the 84-85 Track Team. "We've got a lot of new freshmen this year, but the team is smaller than usual. People are trying new events this year because there aren't that many people in every event. It takes a lot of your spare time, but it's worth it."

We hope to see it again next year," says Wendy Gallagher enthusiastically about the Varsity Cheerleading Team. The cheerleaders and Mascots this year competed in United Spirit Association camp and won superior ribbons for their performances, the spirit stick, and a trophy. They deserve a big cheer!

Mascots: Genene McPhetridge, and Michelle Godfrey.

Young And The Restless

The junior varsity cheerleaders were enthusiastic and energetic throughout the year. They won a superior trophy and the spirit stick at camp this past summer. They also won several first place ribbons at camp and at other places. The cheerleaders rooted our team on whether they won or lost.

What A Way To Go

Clubs provided a break from the hectic school day schedule, having meetings after school and at lunch. A club day was held in October and it gave the students an opportunity to sign up for various clubs and organizations. Approximately eighteen clubs were formed this year. NHS and CSF were able to organize a trip to San Francisco, their trip was from March 27-29.

In the sheep showmanship, which had sixty entries, ten of them placed. Geri Fierro and Traci Sliester made it until the final two cuts with Traci going on and placing fifth. The beef showmen also won top honors.

FFA also did well at the Fresno Fair. Audra Betty won the reserve champion crossbred hog. Wayne Johnson won the champion Hampshire and went on to be the winner of the entire FFA show. Mike Gale had the grand champion mkt. steer and won the beef showmanship award. Other winners in beef were Cindy Hollis, Kelly Wait, John Weiss, Jim McDougald, and Zack Box. Smiley's People

This year was a great year for the Rally club. Making a float and organizing rallies were a few activities that took place in Rally club. It had from one hundred to one hundred and fifty members. They made sure that the football team knew that they were behind them one hundred percent. They went to every game and cheered. One club member commented that it was fun to go to the games and show how spirited our school is. Charisse Johnson was in charge of rally club and the activities.

The Sound Of Music

Brian,
You old stud
It has been fun teasing you in art you're a very talented & witty person and it's a pleasure being your friend
I hope
D. Dunkle

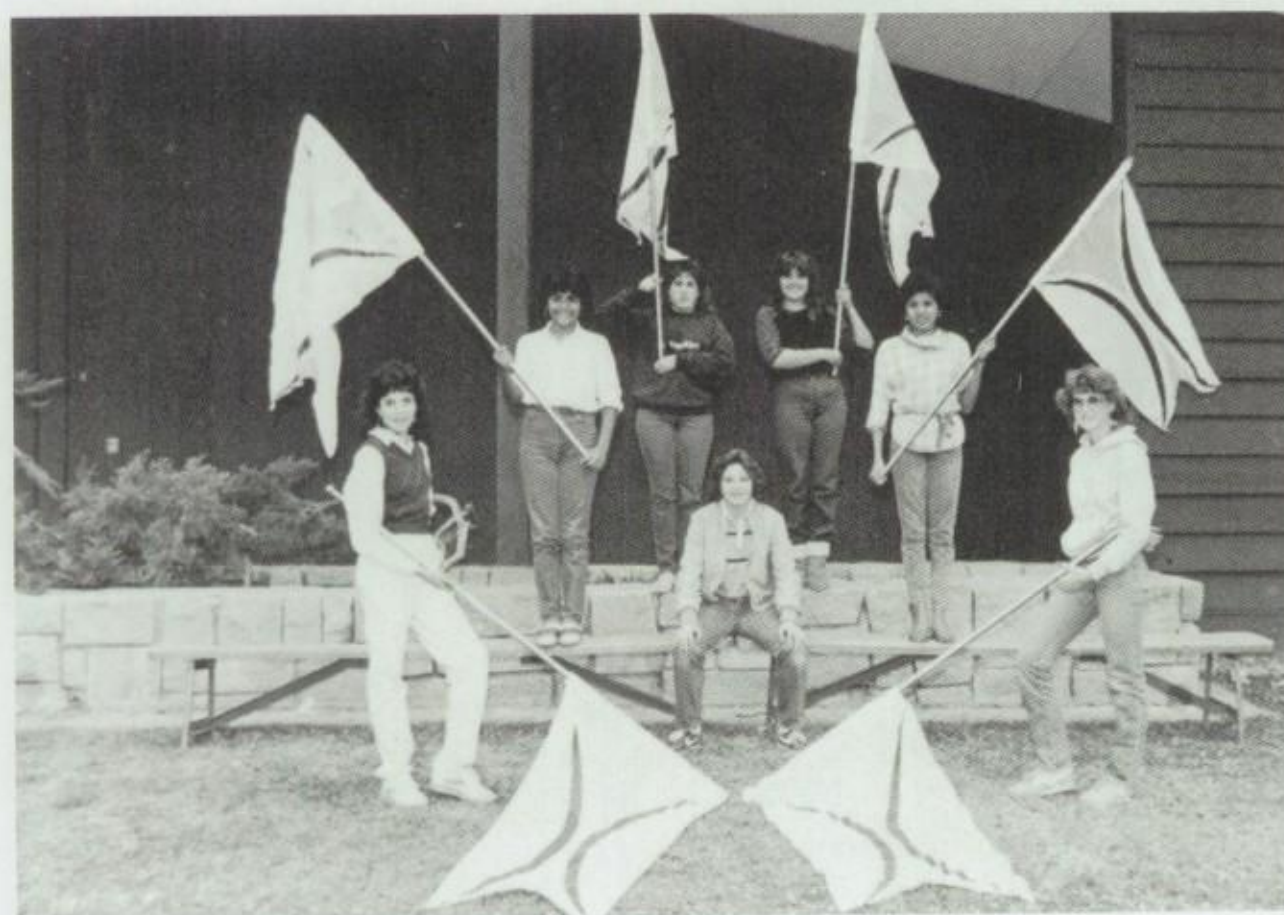

The Sierra High Band has played at all of the home games and other competitions. They are directed by Mr. Wienberger.

"I like choir because everybody in there is dedicated and willing to do a good job, says Tom Dunkle when asked about the 84-85 Sierra High Choir."

The Sound of Music

The Drill and Flag Team hear this every time they practice and perform. They are a group of talented girls who perform at home games and competitions. Their advisor is Mr. Weinberger. "It was fun and interesting," said Elizabeth Hutchins, a member of the team. "I felt like I learned alot."

Masterpiece Theater

I.A. is the Industrial Arts Club. One thing that encourages people to join, is the trip they have in the spring. In order to qualify for the trip, you must attend all the meetings and help with various activities.

This years Drama Club won the best theme at the homecoming game as they have for the past three years. Mrs. Qualls is the director of the Drama Club. They performed two plays; "You The Jury" and "Toga Toga Toga". They also perform Childrens Theater. "Its great, we need more people to get involved in drama." replied Matt Bushnell.

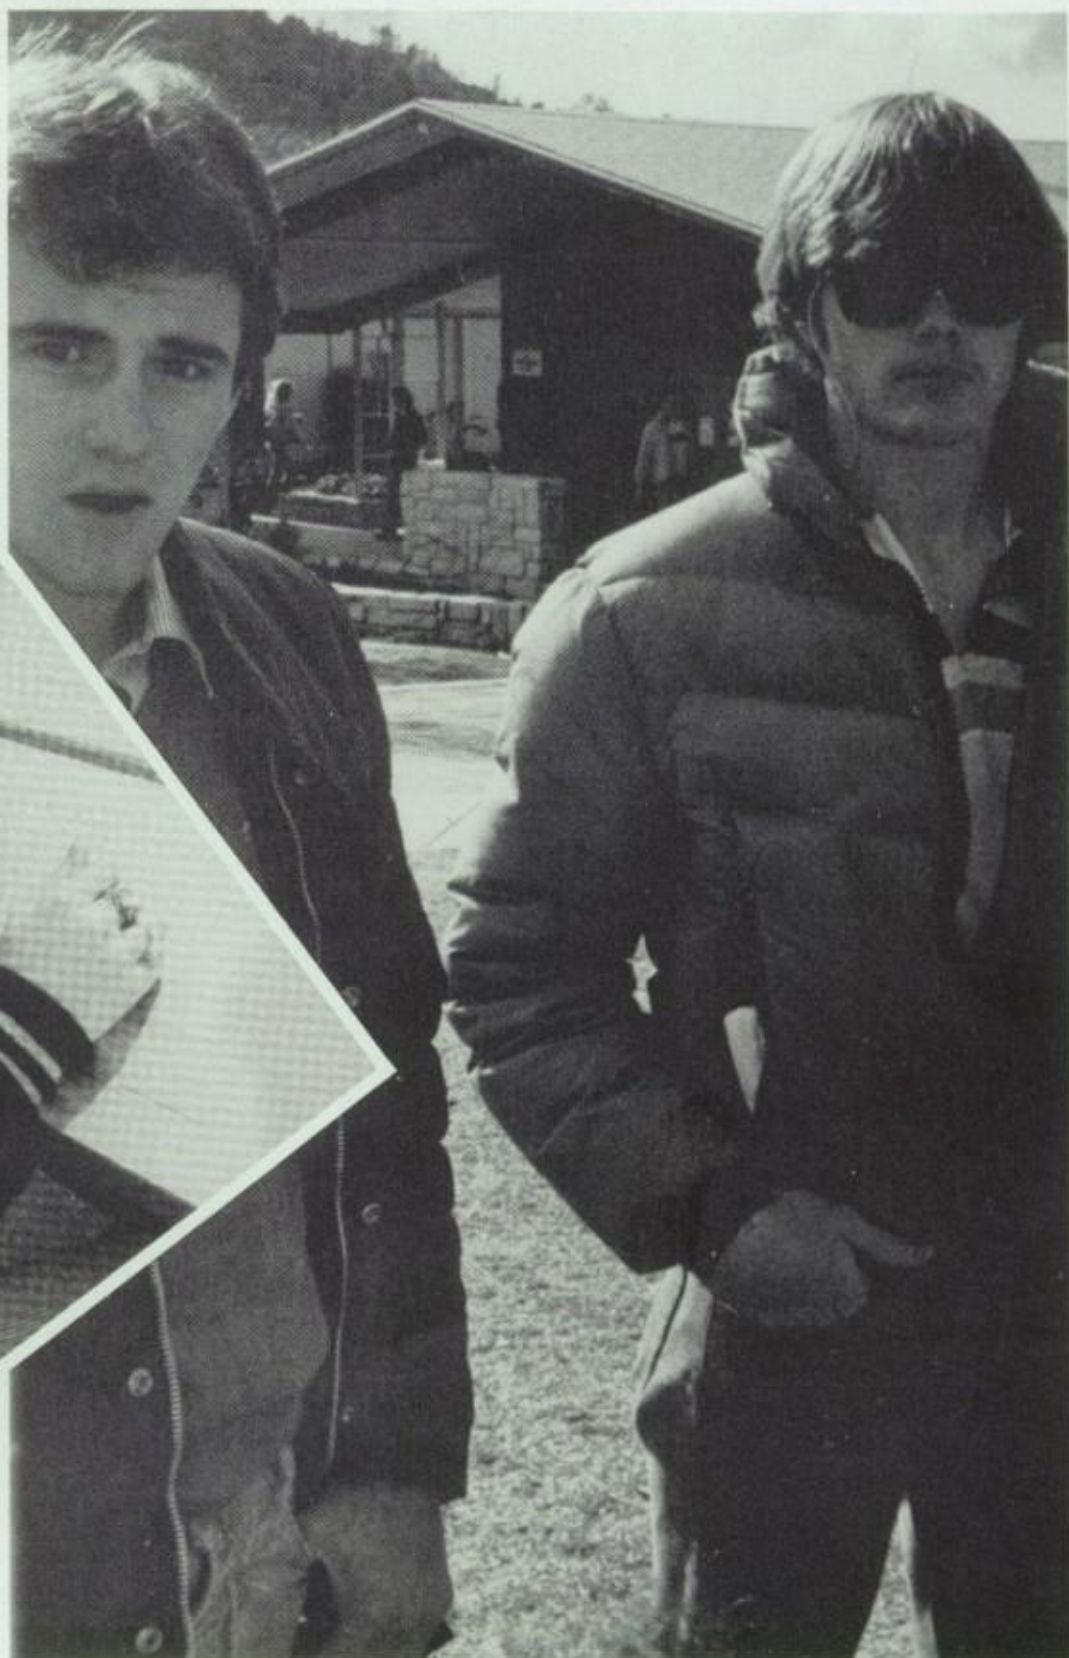

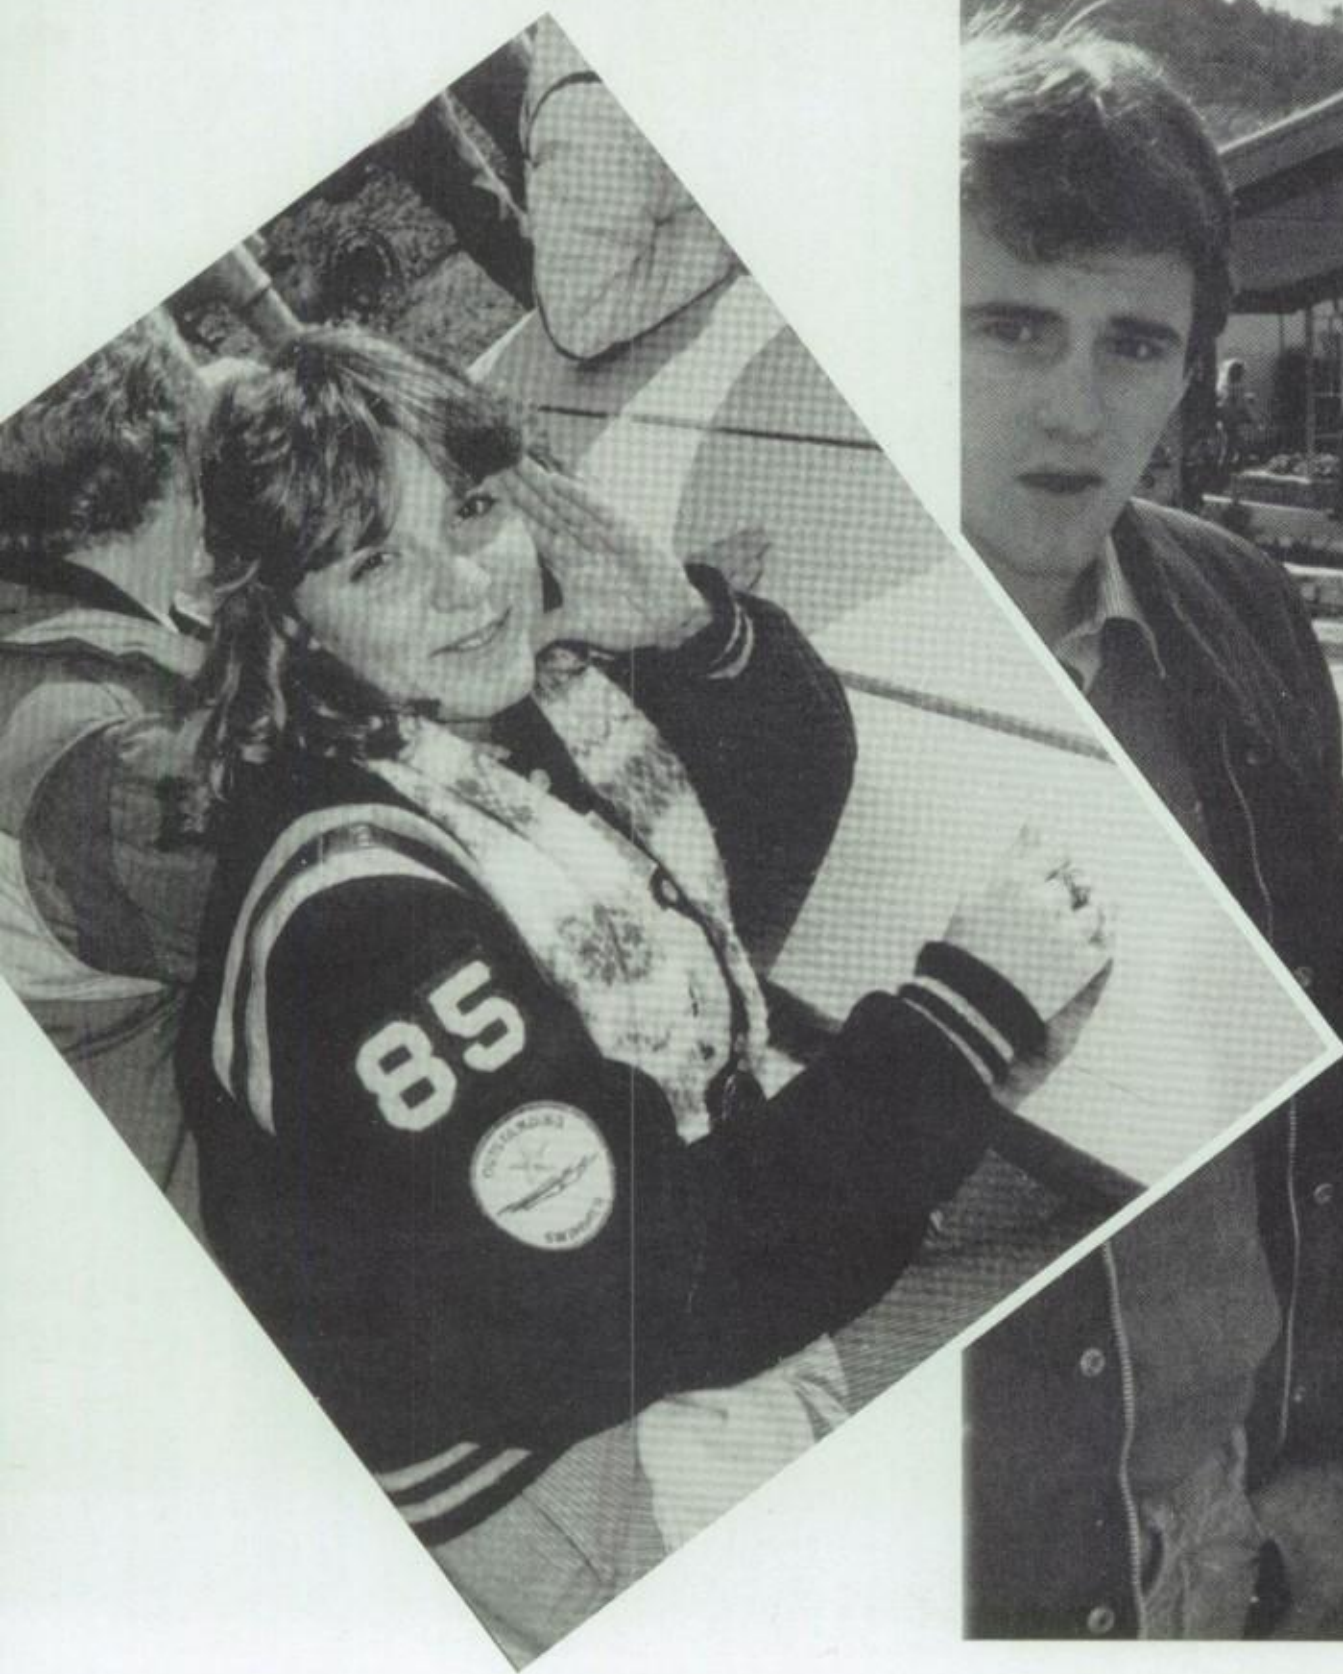

Get Smart

"I respect the hard work that the CSF students do." Comments Mrs. Bartels, the director of CSF. "I admire their discipline and their acceptance of responsibility." The CSF students work to keep their grades up high enough to belong to CSF. A 3.5 grade average is required to belong to this select group.

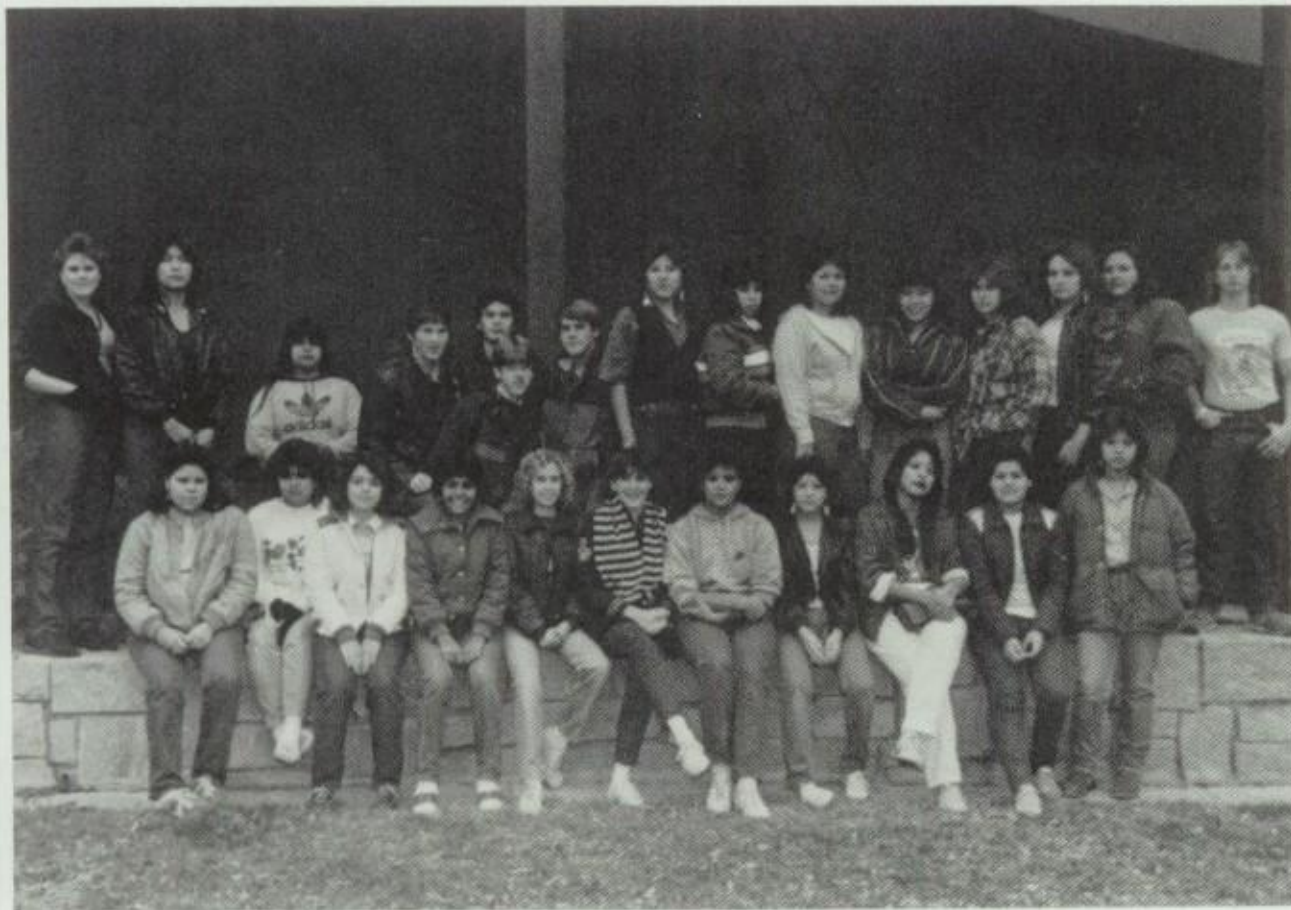

The NHS students would say that you have to "Get Smart" if you want to succeed. Below: Jeff and Pat are "too cool." Below Left: "What a Boring conversation." Bottom, Far Left: Marty Page may be in NHS, but he doesn't seem to understand Dena and Karen's sense of humor.

Cover Girls and Indian Club

The Indian club is not only the longest standing club on campus but represents an important aspect of Indian heritage in our area. Bottom Left: Marsha Riedell, head of the Title 4, Indian Education program.

The girls who were involved in Gottshalks Hi Deb, really represented Sierra well this year. They were able to model clothes and pose for the cameras. Involved were Charese Johnson, Teri Shelton, Dawn Reeves, and Michelle Sheppard. The Hi Deb girls have fun playing in the trees.

Facts Of Life

Girls, girls and more girls, that's all there was in this club. This club was Girls League. They had an exciting time planning the Christmas Formal and thanks to them, it was a blast. They were involved in many things this year, including the homecoming parade.

All you needed was a school letter to be in the Block S. They had a good club this year that really showed Sierras school spirit.

Night Court and Whiz Kids

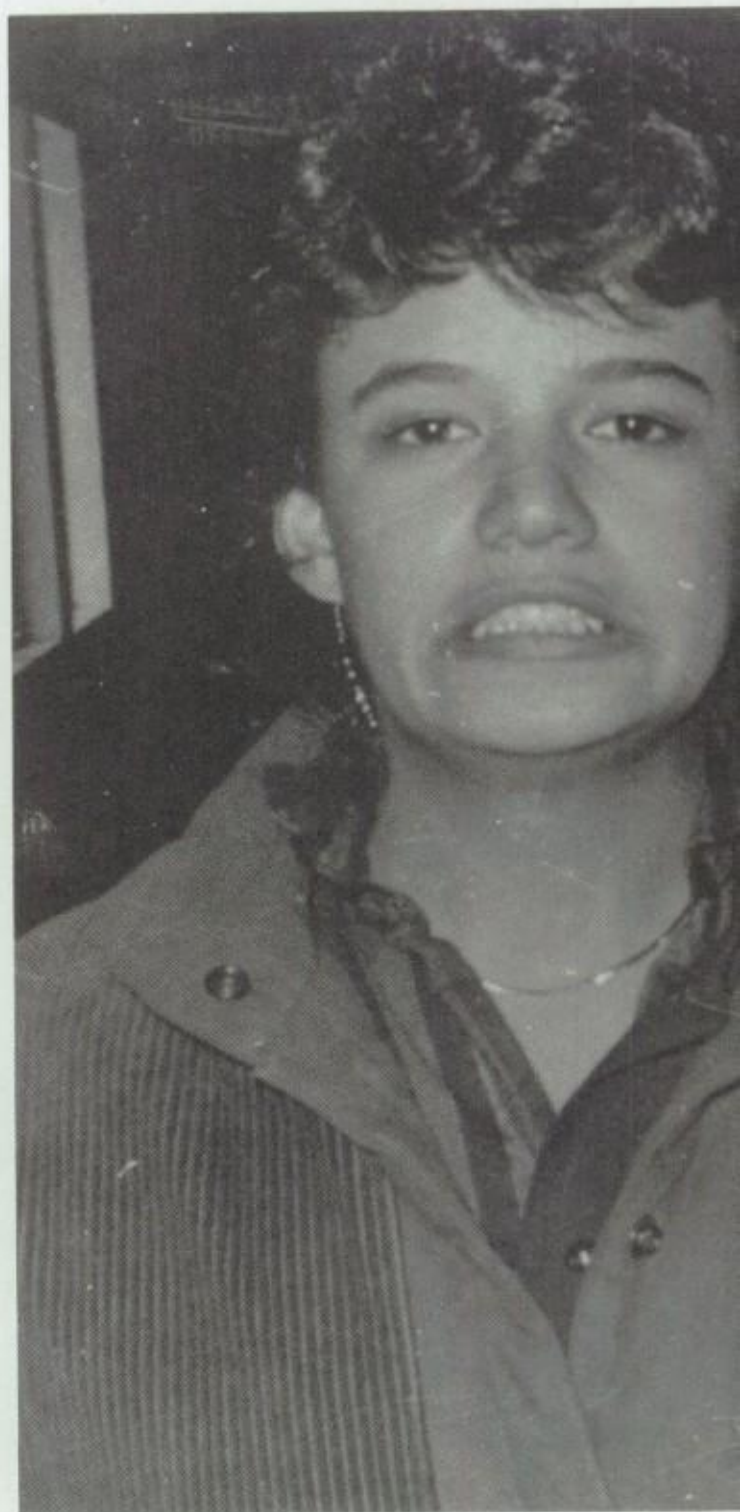

"Get your computer match!" Everyone remembers when the Computer Club had their Computer Match Game. The club really had a good turnout. They participated in the homcoming parade and many other things throughout the whole year.

"Mock Trial, Whats That?" Everyone knew what the Mock Trial Competition was about, after the excellent job our team did this year. They practiced for hours, at school and at home. The team only missed being in the finals by a few hundredths of a point. They were winners anyway, because they did their best. The people on the team were: Andrew Miguel, Allisa Neves, Tim Wisemen, Kindy Pool, Dena Anders, Carla Johnson, Janice Ruiz, Leah Kelly, Dede Hallbrook, Kathy Kennedy, Brian Trimble, Kim Krider, Dawn Reeves, Advisors were; Barbra Bellman, and Lynda Qualls.

Mr. Food Meets Menudo

The foreign language club really had a great bunch of students this year. They were active in the homecoming parade as well as selling candie-o-grams. They met in Mrs. Oriques room and discussed everything from a trip to Mexico to having a foreign food day. The language students mostly enjoyed getting together with students who had the same interests as they had.

"Where's the beef!" exclaims a frantic homemaker. Sometimes homemaking can be a sink of dirty dishes. But then again it has its rewards, like all the delicious foods that one is introduced to. The club put on a Christmas tea and foreign food festival for the faculty. They are also planning to meet in the spring with future homemakers from all over. Mrs. Gregory is the advisor of this organization.

Business Associates

The Future Business Leaders of America club is made up of students who are interested in one thing, business. They really had fun this year. The club had fieldtrips, fund raising activities and entered business competitions.

The Sierra Syndicate club recognizes business students with a 3.0 G.P.A. or better. They have fund raisers for field trips to business organizations, guest speakers, and their annual fun day.

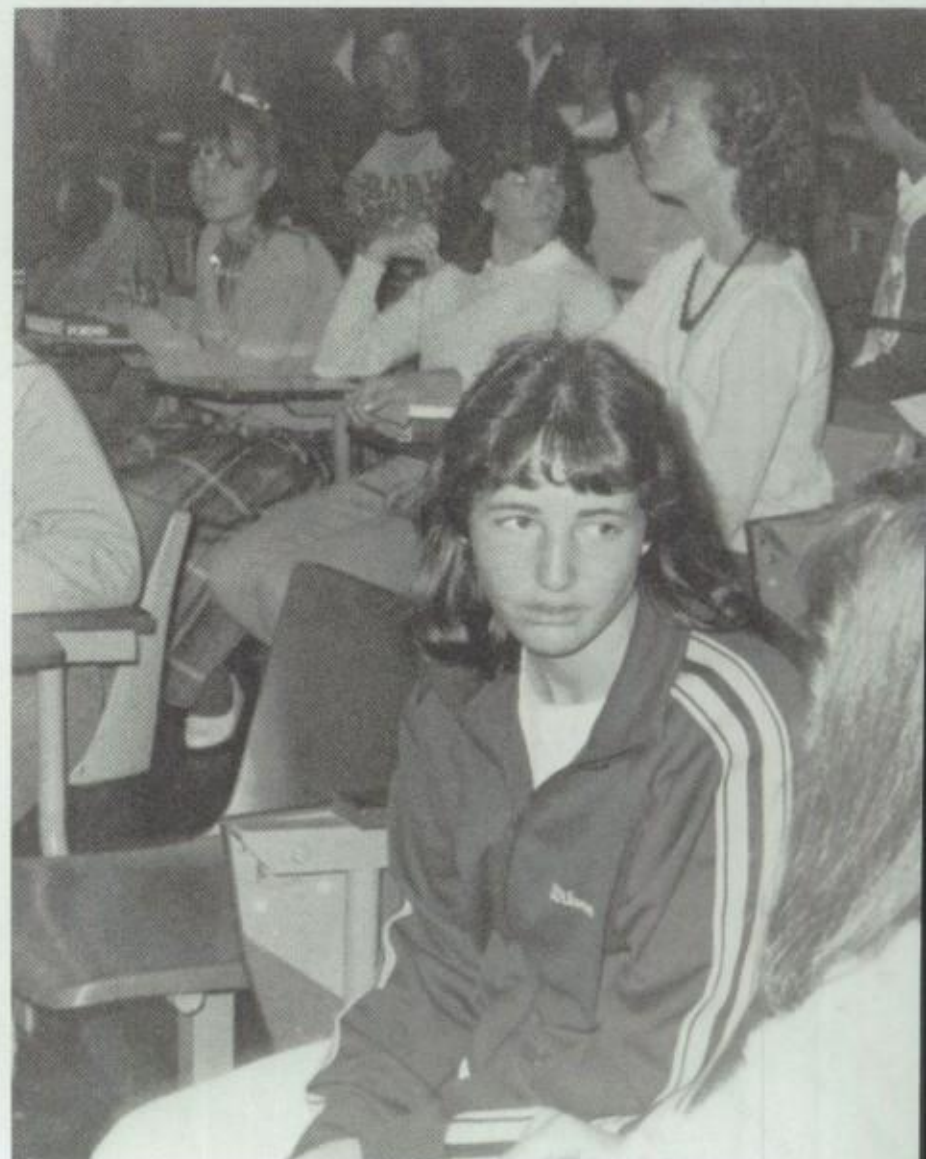

No Drinking and Driving!

The Sierra High School S.A.D.D. (Students Against Drunk Driving) was formed this year after more Sierra High students were involved in tragic automobile accidents. It was made up of students who were concerned about the problem, and wanted to do something about them. It was probably the most well known club at school after the members wore their S.A.D.D. T-shirts.

The Auto Club had a good turnout this year.

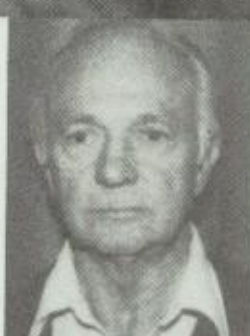

It's A Living

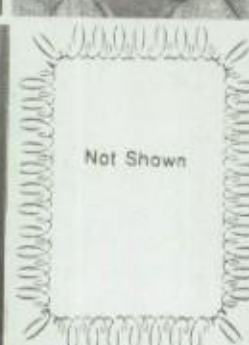

What has 188 legs and can juggle 900 kids and still stay sane? The Sierra High School faculty, of course. They taught the classes, drove the busses, fixed the food, ran the school, coached the sports teams, and arranged exciting events to keep us happy. That takes a great deal of work, but it's all worth it, to them, when they get to pass out those grades, at the end of the grading periods.

In Search Of

"We're the class of 85, 1-9-8-5," was the sound that echoed through the large gym as the seniors chanted the class yell.

As our senior year came to an end, we all sighed with relief, to know that little piece of paper was ours, that diploma, our ticket to freedom. We were thankful for all of those headaches we wouldn't have to endure anymore, no more step 4, no more O.C.S., and no more unexcused absences. However, we will miss hanging out with friends in the quad, after game dances, and sneaking behind the bushes for those stolen kisses.

When you think on it, high school wasn't so bad. It was fun. The teachers weren't really ogres. They were people who were trying to help us get along in life. No, high school wasn't that bad at all, in fact, it was the best years of our lives.

After Graduation

I want to go to Utah State University in Logan, Utah and study Forest Recreation Management. I'm excited about being on my own and meeting new people. I'm a little worried about college, but as long as I make it through the first year, I've got it made!

Brent Reed

I want to go to college, but I'm not sure where I want to go, or what I want to do. I'm looking forward to college and getting a truck. I'd like to stay in dorms because it would be different from home, I'm worried about having to make decisions though.

Kerry Kindig

I'm looking forward to going to Cal Poly and majoring in agriculture, and getting on the live stock show team. I'll really enjoy going away from home.

Karla Johnson

I'd like to attend beauty college. I'm going to enjoy doing my own thing, having my own $ and my own job. I hope to have a good job, so I'll have the $ to do things, and avoid finance problems.

Lisa Price

I want to go to Pepperdine or Fresno State and study political science or law, and maybe become a senator. I'm worried about money.

Tammy Brantley

I'd like to go to a fine arts college in L.A. and become a performer. If that doesn't work out I'd like to go into landscaping, or something suburban. I think that you've got to have a choice.

Garry Lampley

I'll probably join the army for a few years to figure out what I want to do. I'm going to work hard and be smart! I want to tell the upcoming Seniors to "be crazy and wild, and have fun!"

Tony Montoya

Life's going to get harder and I want to be prepared, so I work hard and strive to do my best. I like Sierra because the people are really close. I am going to try to do a little traveling during the summer, but mainly I'm just going to hang around with my friends because it's probably the last time I'm going to see them.

Jarret Mellville

I can't wait to graduate and get out on my own. I think that it is going to be a great experience and I'm going to have a blast if it kills me! Going to college will be pretty demanding too, but I'll make it. I want to major in psychology and be a counselor someday.

Safari To Adventure

Moving up to the next plateau of our high school years is the roughest year of all. Most of the Juniors carried full schedules, so they could kick back their Senior year. But because of the longer day and more requirements for graduation, they might still have a full schedule next year.

Once becoming a sophomore it was fun to call the new freshmen scrubs. They looked forward to becoming upperclassmen and graduating from J.V. to Varsity. They had their fun, now it was time to get down to business. More responsibility is involved in planning their future, and taking charge of their life.

Oh no, big sisters! When asked, Scott Gudehus replied "Its kind of bad to have an older sister because everyone expects me to have good grades like her." Scott is a J.V. football player this year and says that the one thing about competing is to "do the best I can in a game and win".

Genene McPhetridge is this years mascot for Sierra High, and a member of the cheerleaders squad. She likes being the Mascot because she enjoys getting the crowd excited. Genene said, "I Like going to school here because city schools are bigger and you don't meet a lot of people."

As they walked down the halls with their books held tightly in their hands, the new freshmen wondered if they would get to class on time or even to the right room. Each day was a new experience for them, and they soon found out what would be expected of them during their next three years.

Freshmen made sure they stayed clear of the Chieftain head, because they didn't want to be the next to scrub it.

Top: Three's company for Dede, Marci and Tom as they check out the football team in action.

Bottom Right: It's Fraggile Rock! No, who knows what these freshmen are up to? Gilbert Marshall and Brian Denham sure look confused.

Angie Davis used to be a flat lander. But is now a mountain person. Angie was asked how the daily routine of students in town was different from that of students in the mountains. She replied, "students going to school in the city don't have as many electives. Their campus is bigger, and students have a choice of going to a fast food place or staying at school for lunch." Angie is very active in the rally club and girls league.

For my best friends, Lynnette, Denice, Rose, Shelly, Cathy, Leslie, Darin, Lisa, Neb, and Rhonda.

Thank you for laughing with me, growing with me, holding me, caring for me, for honesty, and generally being with me when I needed it most. Because of all of you I am a better person. I love all of you. If you ever need anything, call me, I'll be there. I wish I could tell you all I want to, but I can't. With Love Forever, Brian Trimble.

To a girl who's shared her secrets-her pain-her growth-her frustration-her laughter-her friendship and genuinely continue to grow, don't hesitate to try, keep you sweet and gentle ways, but most of all, be all you can be- be CINDY! Your friend always, Kathy.

Linda Mackie, for the times you've bolstered my ego, shouldered my troubles, loaned me your ear, understood the ununderstandable, and giggled at the absurd, I am eternally grateful. At your age you were my source of strength. Thank you for these things, and more, I thank you for being so special. Love Mom.

YOU BET YOUR LIFE

Student life, what did it consist of this year?

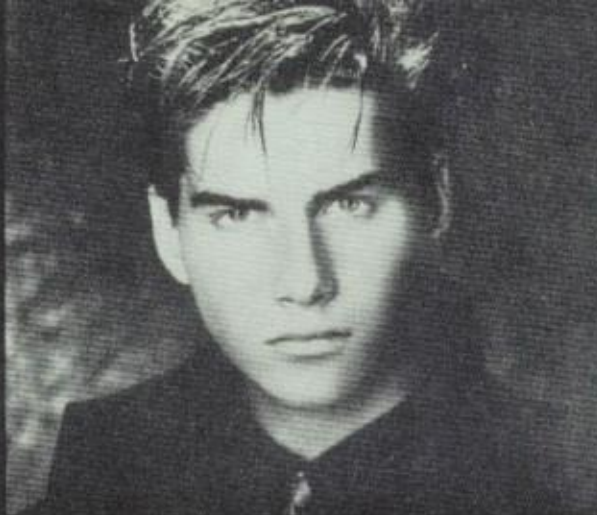

For starters, it began with friendship, the most important element to survival in high school, then it went on to games, dances, school work, fashions, fads, jobs, clubs, junk food, health food and a little romance.

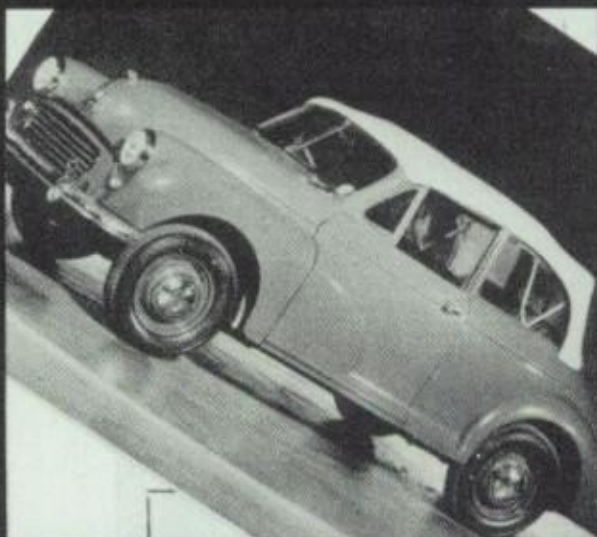

(a) big ☐

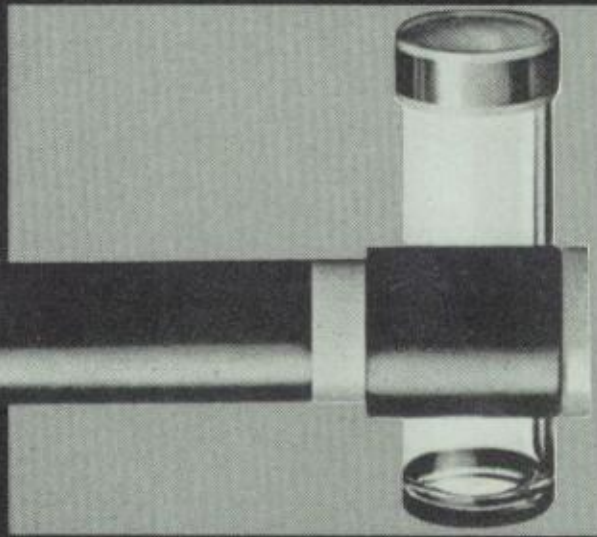

(b) little ☐

The Vietnam war was in progress when we were born. We have grown up during the hardest era in American history, with drugs, the sexual revolution, and economic hardships, not to mention the pains and trails of growing up.

ARTEGANI
RINO BOSSI

When school first began in August, there wasn't a person on campus who didn't wish it were already over, but now we are a little apprehensive. There are some people we will never see again, and things we will never do again. It can be sad, but you can bet your life there will be more excitement and maybe, just maybe, a better life, if we play our cards right.

OVER THE EDGE

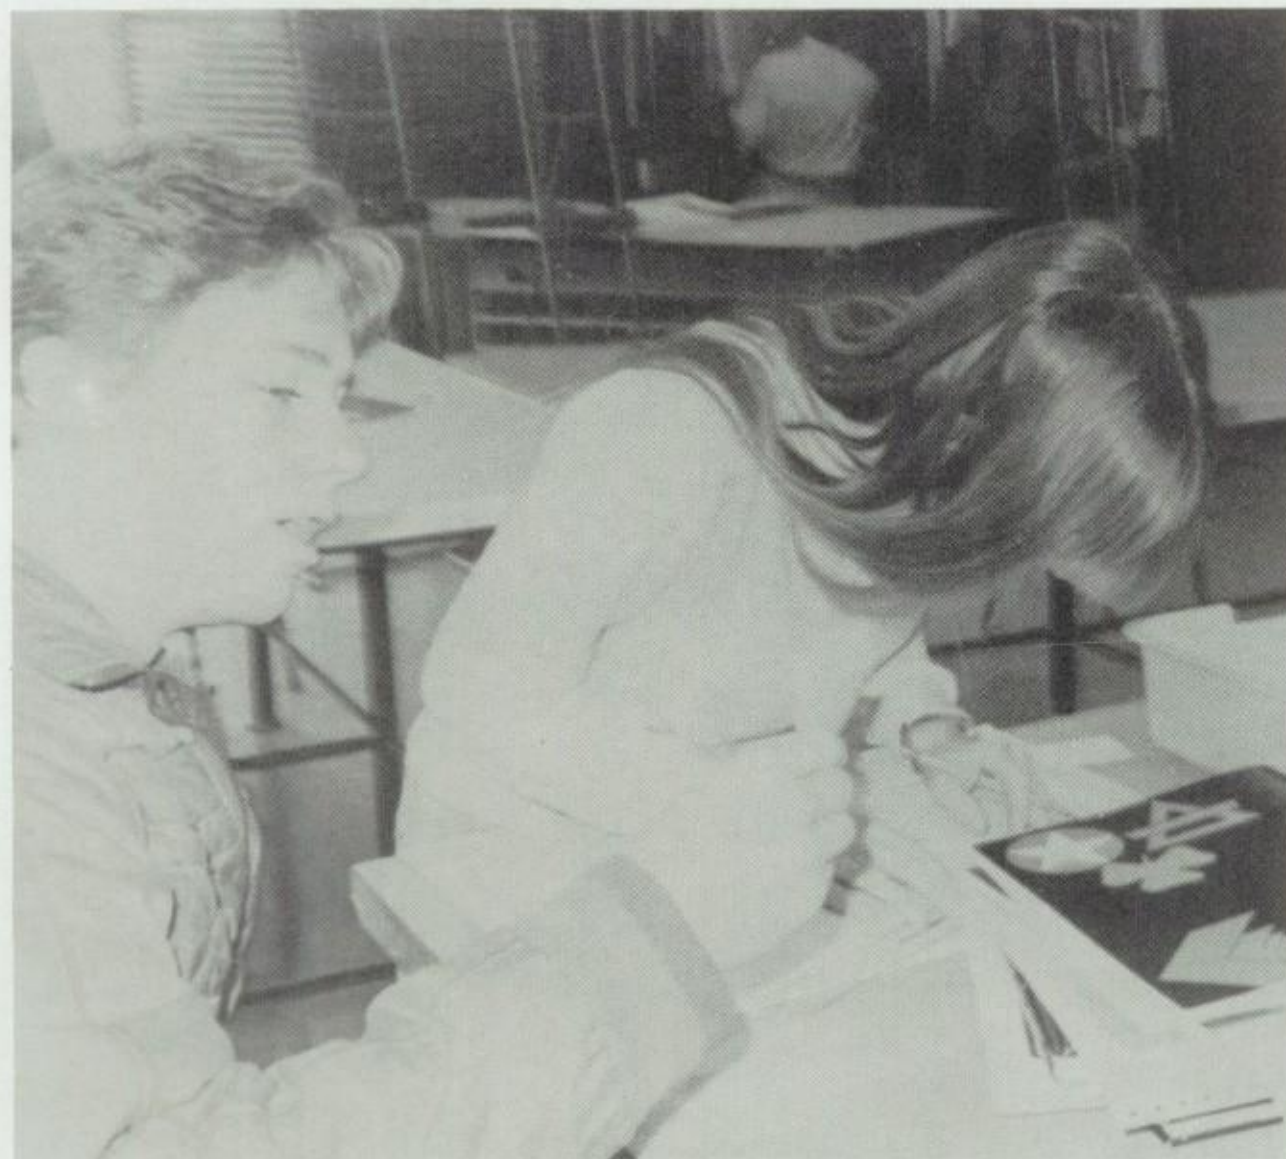

The yearbook was really more work than we all expected. We know that it has its faults but hope that you will overlook them and enjoy your SH Guide.

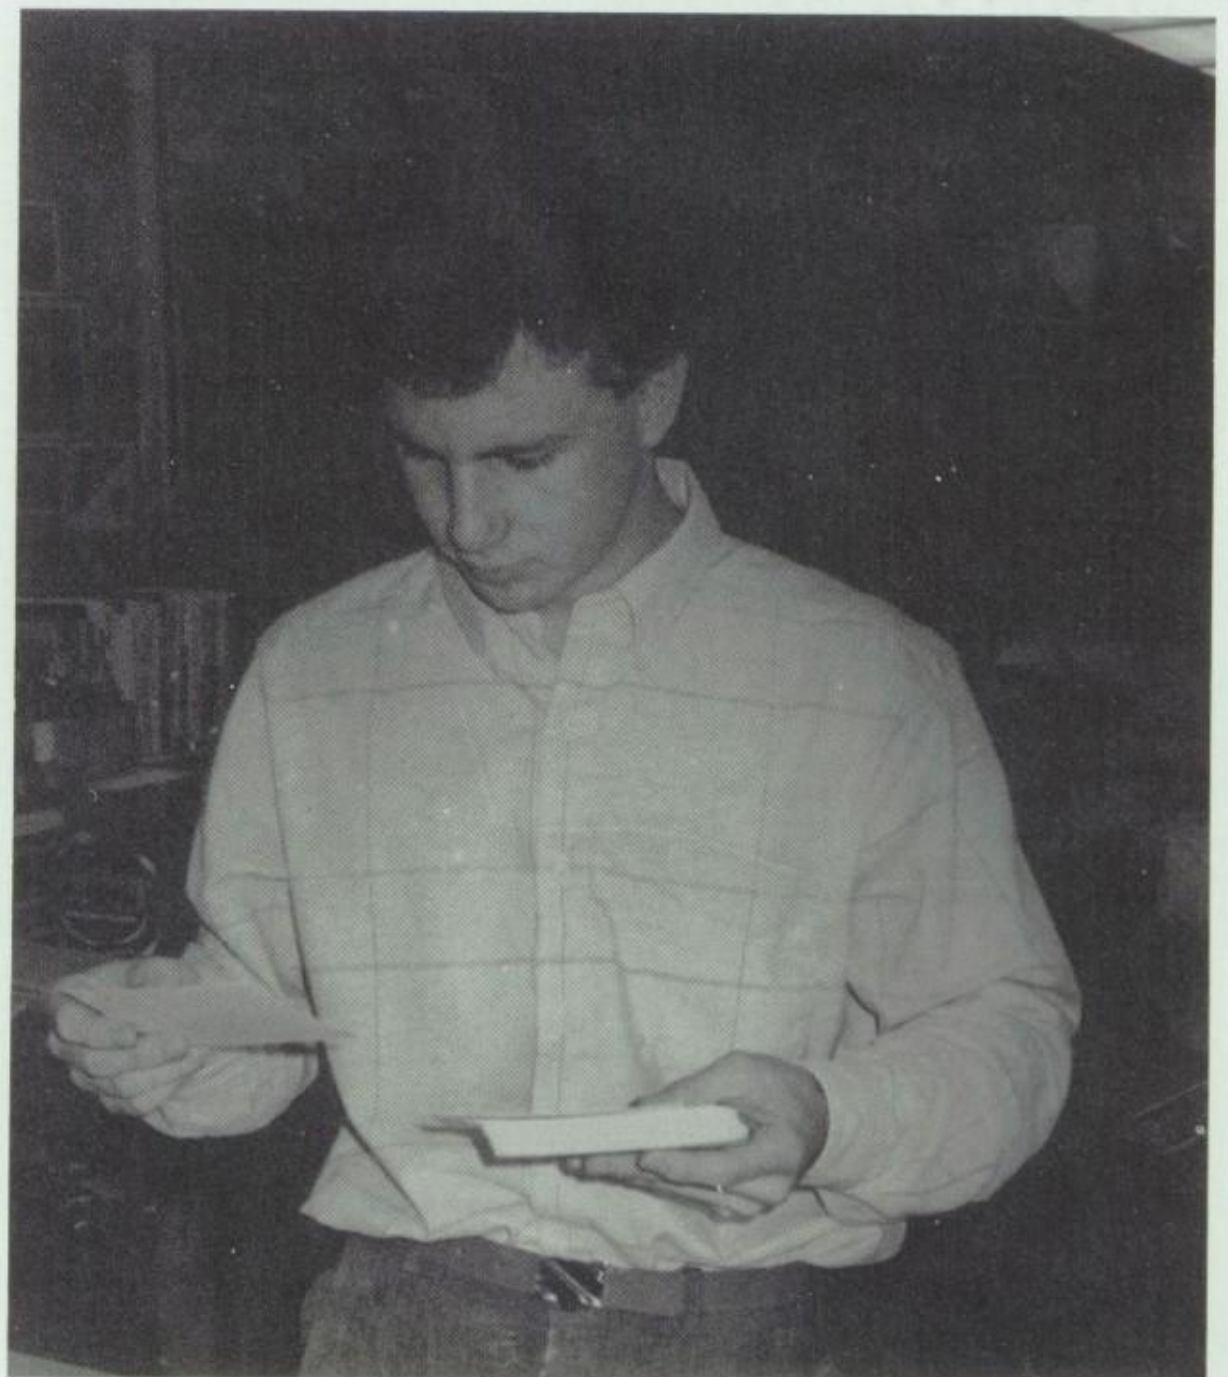

The yearbook staff consisted of Co-Editors: Brian Trimble and Darin Simmons, Staff: Kim Grandalski, Lisa Benck, Cris Holmes, Cherie Mayes, Cathy Marcotte and Photographers, Matt Bushnell, and Kathy Goins.

It was a great experience and I learned alot! I had fun some of the time, and cried the rest of the time. I'm sure the results will be worth the work. It BETTER BE!-Cris.

Yearbook was . . . well . . . different- I'll never be the same. Let's go crazy. I would die for-Dean!! Kim and I had some unusal times during 4th period. When doves cry. We'll party like it's 1999! Judgement day is coming but we'll all meet again in the afterworld.-Lisa Super Oinkin' Benck.

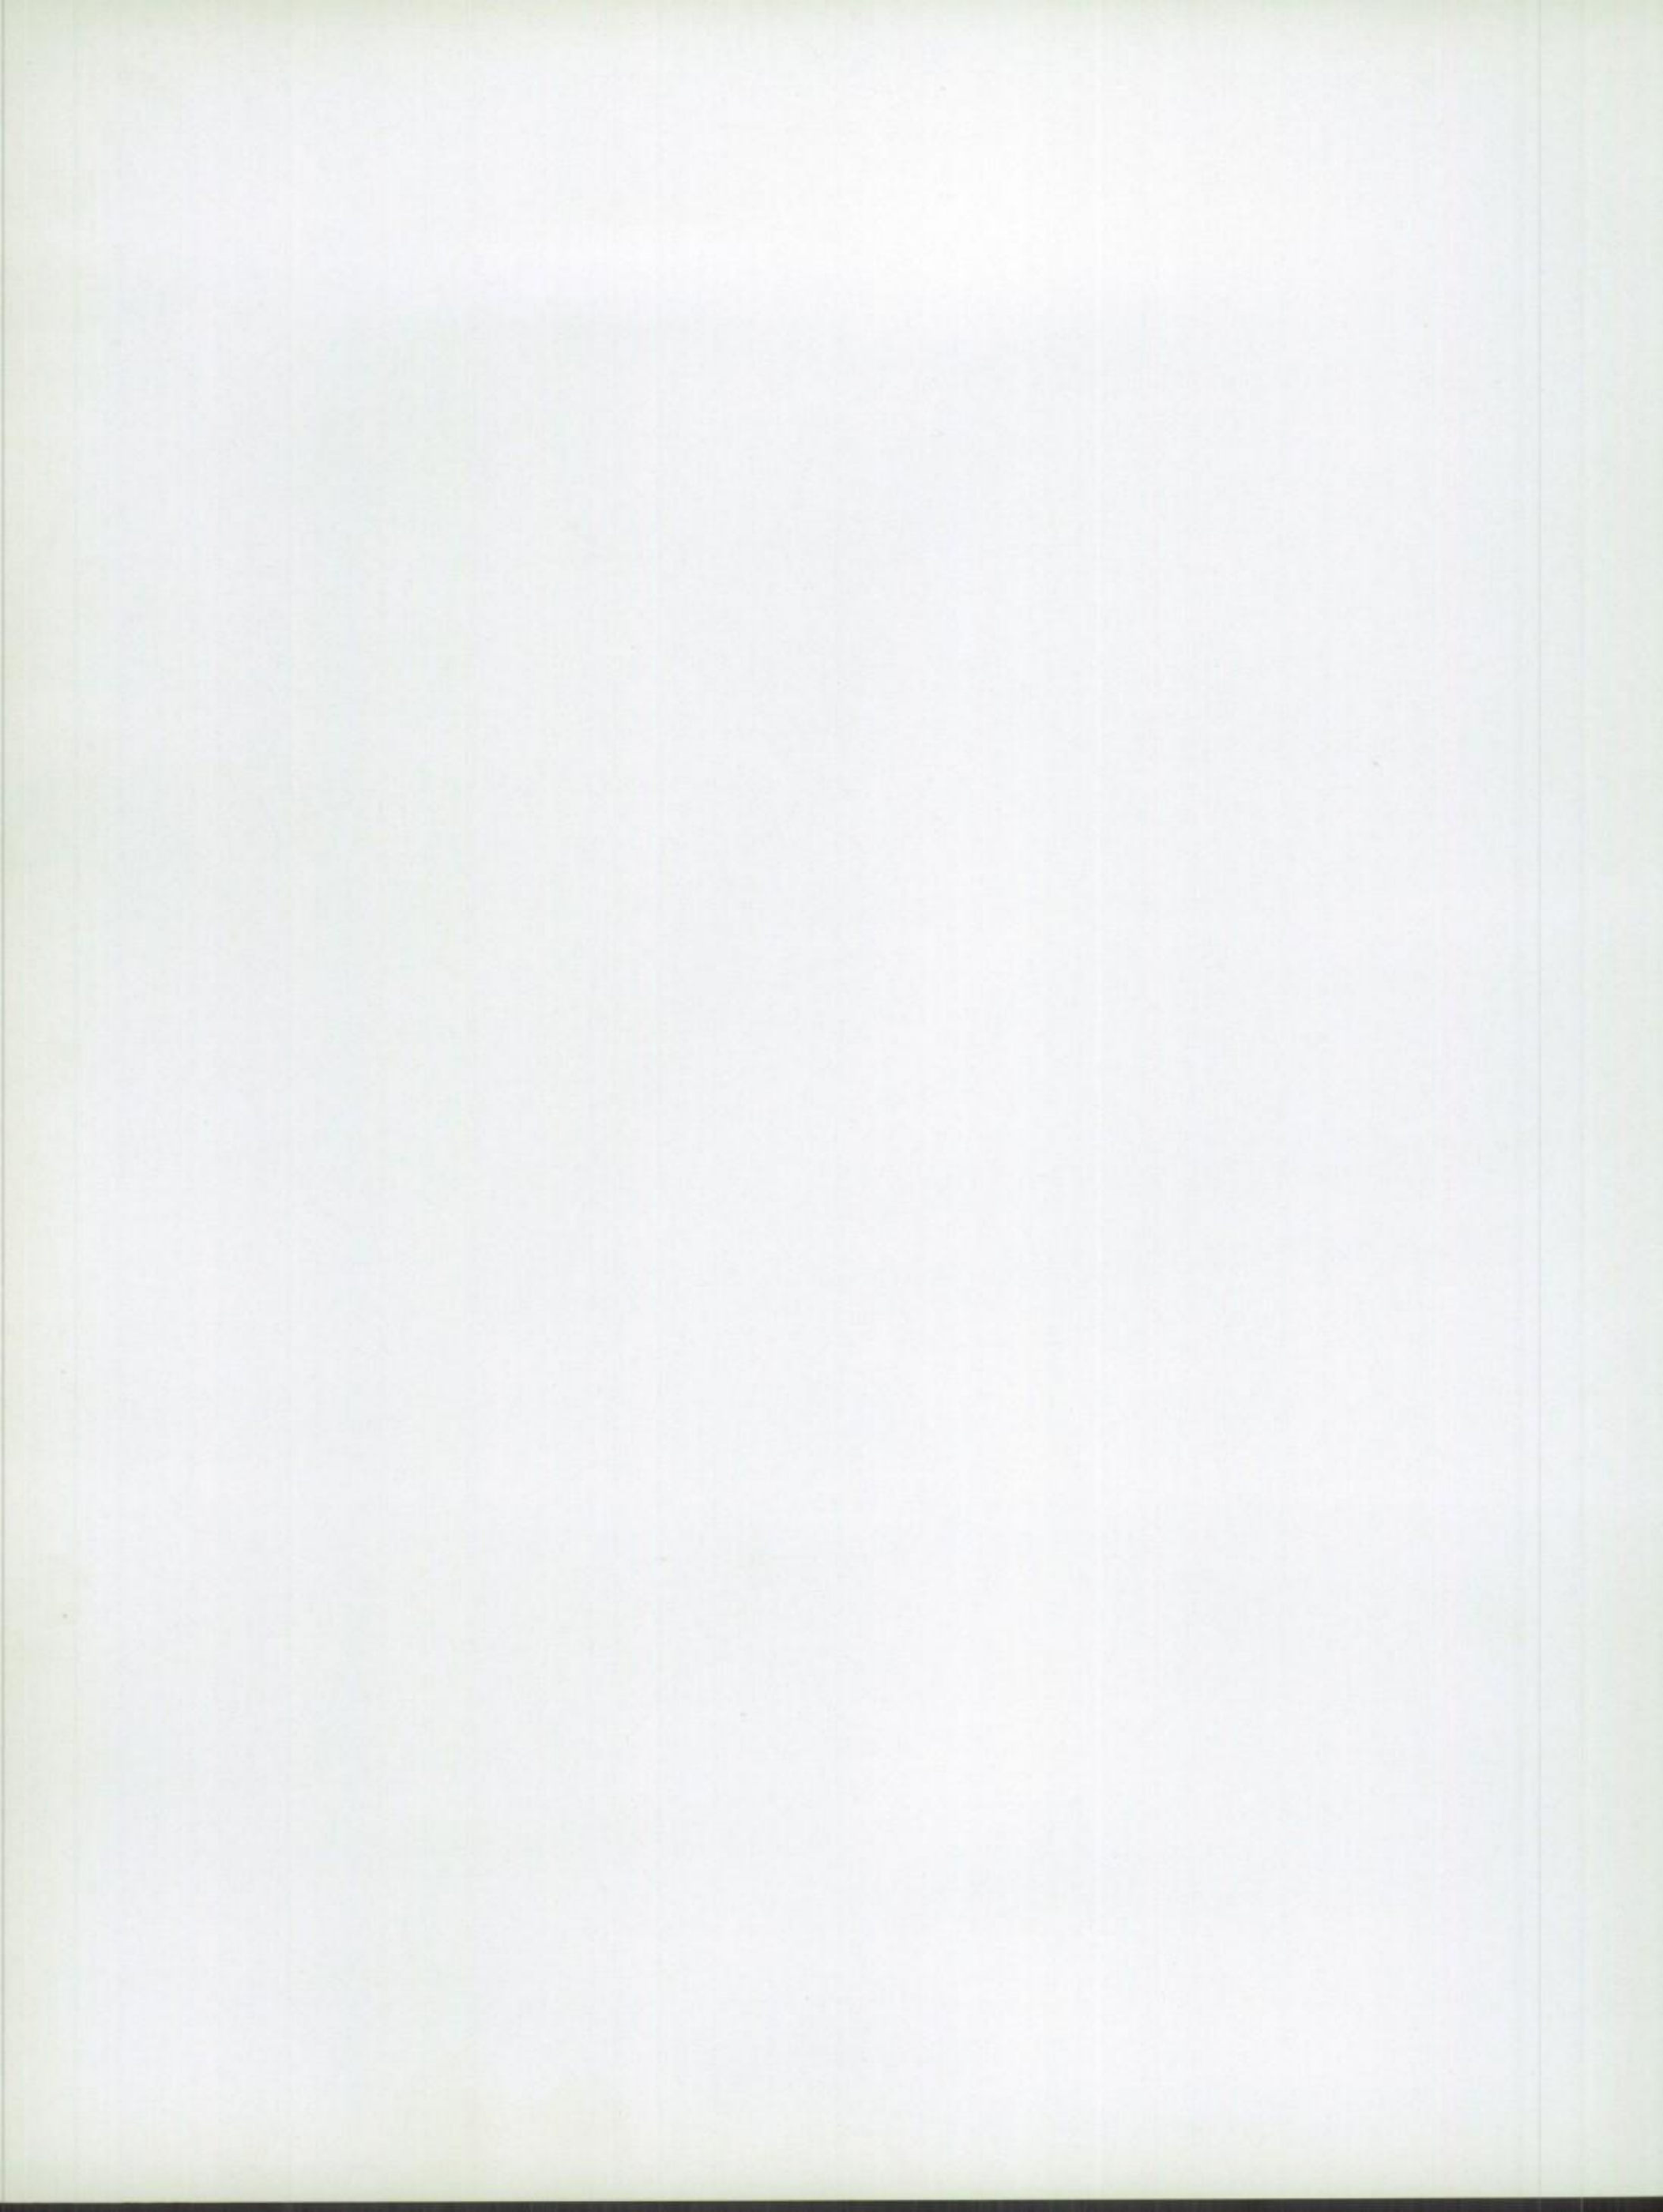

Yearbook was an experience I'll never forget! Of course though, Lisa and I survived the jungle war path! Dede left us to go to the other side so we had to do it on our own. We made it every day. so it was well worth the work.- Kim
